Unmanaged devices

 We will automatically change the "Apps that don't use modern authentication" setting to block access (because these apps can't enforce this device-based restriction).

A simple hack for resetting a Windows 10 password by abusing tools such as Ultiman.exe, StickyKeys, or DisplaySwitch.exe has existed for some time. Microsoft recently raised the hurdle a little by preventing these Windows modifications with Windows Defender. In this post, I show you how you can easily hack into Windows anyway.
